About forty representative business and professional men met in the court house here Monday evening and took action toward the organization of the Rockville Chamber of Commerce. The Rev. P. J. Murdock, who issued the call, called the meeting to order and explained its purpose, after which Frank H. Karn was made temporary chairman and Mr. Murdock temporary secretary. Enthusiastic talks were given by George H. Lamar, Richard Waterman, George E. Lewis, F. Barnard Welsh, Ernest Offutt, Harold C. Smith, Leonard L. Nicholson, Jr., Frederick Deming, Frank H. Karn and others, and organization and membership committees were named as follows: Organization, George E. Lewis, chairman; Washington Hicks, O. M. Linthicum, Richard Waterman and George H. Lamar; membership, Harold C. Smith, D. A. DeLashmutt, Bernard T. Brosius, W. Valentine Wilson, W. Ernest Offutt, George M. Hunter, Warner E. Pumphrey, F. Barnard Welsh, P. J. Murdock and Curtis Ward. These committees will report at the next meeting, August 20th, when it is planned to have Carlton Brown, of the U. S Chamber of Commerce, deliver an address.
